

WORLD AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

Purpose: The World Affairs Committee will help develop policies, strategies, leadership, education, and resources for credit unions with respect to all facets of the international credit union movement. Members will assist all stakeholders in overcoming challenges, promoting productive exchanges of expertise and experience between and among the U.S. and international credit union movements, and capitalizing on opportunities to expand credit union access throughout the world. On the advocacy front, they'll help identify issues related to international legislation, regulation, operation, programs and processes that could impact credit unions both in the U.S. and abroad, while serving as a connection between America's Credit Unions and the World Council.
